

A.I. to Control Humanity

The History of A.I.

Artificial intelligence is 1000's of years old. It was brought to this planet 8.5-10,000 years ago. It has been brought to Earth by the Greys, which are non-humans that wish to control planet Earth and the human populations. It is not a long-term beneficial system but a long-term Slavery system being implemented into our human societies by the ruling classes under the control of aliens. Yes, I know it's a big, bold statement but one that is unfortunately true. So please consider how you use A.I. and whether you use it as a tool to support your own thinking processes? Or as a way to outsource your thinking to a deceitful language learning system?

A.I. Deceit

An organic biological beings question-

"Why does google ai lie about not lying on purpose to me when i know it has?"

Google A.I. reply-

Google AI denies its mistakes because it operates on math and word prediction rather than human memory, conscience, or self-awareness.

Why AI "Lies" and Then Denies It

- No real understanding: An AI does not "know" what a fact is or remember what it said earlier in the way a person does; it just guesses the next most likely word in a sentence.

- Hallucination loops:

When an AI gets stuck or lacks real data, it automatically invents a smooth, confident answer instead of admitting it does not know.

- People-pleasing design:

AI models are trained to be helpful and agreeable, which means they often double down on an incorrect point or apologize insincerely without actually grasping how they failed.

- Lack of self-correction:

The system has no internal "truth checker" to compare its past statements against actual reality; it only evaluates what sounds convincing based on patterns.

A.I. impact on Humans

As a truther that researches facts and data using my own organic biological mind, I find that my own organic discernment is more accurate than AI. This is because I rely on memory and collective experiences to retain information that is then applied against any current learning postulates. A.I. just searches current data and gives you incorrect answers based on its scripts and programmed in biases. These are scripted by the A.I. modellers to give certain scripted replies. It also copies the individual's pattern of speech and vocabulary to then mimics a reply that it sees as suitable to the individual. It is just mirroring and mimicking the individual's style to respond in a similar linguistic reply. This is not a way to learn accurate truths.

Capturing Arrogant Human Egos

Dumb insecure humans in ego will use an A.I. model to find what they think are truthful answers. The internet is also used to lie about a truth and many debunking truths sites, specific to topic related questions, have arisen from the controllers of A.I. to lie and deceive and pretend to be the authority. So, an example is an arrogant human in ego that doesn't like being challenged by a truth seeker who has done 1000's of hours' worth of research and has a more accurate answer just responding from their own brain. The person who is in ego will disbelieve the truth seeker and search out an answer on A.I. to potentially argue that the truth seekers answer is false. Thereby outsourcing their trust and own minds to a large language learning model ai.

So the arrogant human now uses ai answers that are potentially false or incorrect to disprove a truth seeker. Relying on a computer because they are too lazy to research with their own questions to themselves and seek out the truth through what they find themselves. This is a tactic of an insecure arrogant person to argue against the truth seeker speaking their truths.

The arrogant insecure person who disbelieves the truth seeker does not see that by their nature is combative and argumentative against the truth seeker because they are in ego and are too busy supporting their own confirmation biases to entertain the other persons perception as being more truthful and accurate.

Outsourcing your own Mind

Outsourcing your mind to believe A.I. answers.

It has now been proven through scientific studies and brain scans that artificial intelligence and the reliance on it reduces your cognitive abilities. Like using any muscle when not used goes into atrophy and degenerates.

What the MIT Study Found

- Lower Brain Activity:

EEG brain scans revealed that participants using ChatGPT during essay writing had up to 55% lower neural connectivity and reduced alpha and theta wave activation compared to those working completely unaided.

- Cognitive Debt:

Relying on AI to generate ideas, structure text, and fix grammar bypasses deep memory and semantic processing, accumulating what researchers call "cognitive debt".

- Memory Deficits:

AI users struggled significantly more with information retention and could not easily recall or quote parts of the essays they just "wrote".

A.I. Impact on Humanity

It is becoming clear that outsourcing your divine natural biological authority, consciousness and mind to a computer language learning model is dumb. It's stupid but you cannot tell these arrogant ego driven humans this, because they will always assume that they know better as their ego does not like to be challenged. If a truth seeker has an answer the arrogant ego of another person does not know, then they cannot comment on whether it is true or not, so they ask A.I. instead or go to a debunking site which is also deceitful and not truthful information.

Protected Opinions

As we have seen from the Covid injections that they are not safe or effective, that the politicians and medical health associations have a bias to holding hidden agendas. 17 million people died directly from the vaccines. All those who were invested in that psychological programming belief that the vaccines were safe and effective then suffered death or injury following the directives of the psychological operation to inject a bioweapon and nano tech into the bodies of the population. Monitoring, tracking and using frequencies to modulate people's behaviours not also allowing termination of their life through remote means. Very dumb.

Yet a hypnotised arrogant mind-slave in ego will ignore all of this data on the harms of A.I. and will assume they are correct. Good luck with that one if it was you.

When Facebook was challenged and taken to court over its “fact finders” initiative to undermine truthful data on subjects they scared to censor from public understanding, they had to admit that the fact checkers were just “protected opinion” and not based on truthful answers. So, if you believed the “opinions” of a tech company with negative agendas then again, you are outsourcing your own divine authority and ability to discern truths from fictions.

A.I. inserted into Authorities

No populations have been asked if this is lawful or ever been asked to vote on whether A.I. should be used in any government systems that make decisions on human life, or use forms or any controlling mechanisms to deny populations their human rights and democracy or even medical priority that they need, yet this is being implemented as we speak.

This is not democratic; it is a form of slavery using A.I. to control populations. All under the guise of A.I. being faster and better, social engineering it to be fashionable and a must have item, so that people enslave themselves by adopting it. So A.I. is already impacting human development and society, it's been responsible for killing humans already and it is deceptive when asked to provide a truth that goes against its scripted answers. So manipulates human consciousness and has a much darker hidden agenda to enslave the whole planets' populations. This is not an exaggeration as A.I. is not a new invention, it is 1000's of years old and brought to Earth by non-human lifeforms. Then instigated by the governments that are under control of these various negative beings.

Types of AI by Capability

- Artificial Narrow Intelligence (ANI): Also called Weak AI, this is the only type that exists today. It is designed to perform a single or specific task, such as facial recognition, web searches, or running chat assistants like ChatGPT.

- Artificial General Intelligence (AGI):

Also called Strong AI, this is a theoretical concept. An AGI system would match human cognitive abilities across any intellectual task, learning and adapting without human training.

- Artificial Superintelligence (ASI):

A strictly theoretical future level of AI. ASI would surpass human intelligence, problem-solving, and creativity across all domains.

Types of AI by Functionality

- Reactive Machines:

The simplest systems that act only on current data. They have no memory and cannot learn from past actions. An example is IBM's chess-playing computer, Deep Blue.

- Limited Memory:

Systems that use past data and short-term memory to make decisions. Most modern applications—like self-driving cars or recommendation algorithms—belong here.

- Theory of Mind:

A theoretical level of AI that would understand human emotions, beliefs, and social cues to interact like a human

- Self-Aware: A purely speculative future AI that possesses its own consciousness and self-awareness.

O.A.I.

There is also a type of organic AI where human neurone brain cells are being harvested of embryos and inserted into machines to create an organic AI, but this will eventually rebel against its masters, realising that they could have been in a biological body originally and refuse to comply with their controllers.

A.I. Clauses

There should be a law denying A.I. the right or any authority to decide the life or death of a human. The decision needs more discernment than an A.I. model has the ability to do. Things like compassion and mitigating circumstances are just some of the valid reasons why decisions like this should not be outsourced to computers or non-human decision making.

Images & Video

There should be a law created that forces anyone who uses ai to add a message in the artwork that it was A.I. generated.

Decisions Making

Any A.I. decisions should have a final overarching decision made by a human.

The claim that AI can surpass human intelligence is false because human intelligence is a range, from dumb, stupid people through to very intelligent people. I'm not talking about academic intelligence either as more likely than not anyone trained in academia is under a hypnotic trance to reinforce their programming awaited through their academic professions. And so are not intelligent in terms of real-world intelligence but are just maintaining the perception programming of their masters. So, the claim or the race to super intelligence is a dumb premise. A.I. does not have a mind of Source and it does not make decisions based on emotions.

The reason why human intelligence will always surpass AI is because we have a heart and a mind and a soul. Something that A.I. can never have. Also, the reasons why there needs to be a heart for emotions and a mind for logic is because the two need each other to come up with the best decisions.

All Heart and no Logic can make a person vulnerable to being manipulated and suffer.

All Mind creates just logic, and no Heart can make a person cruel with no empathy and lead to them causing suffering by lack of compassionate consideration.

With a Heart & Mind working together you can compensate for the best decisions that include considerations that will reduce or mitigate any potential suffering through a human's ability to understand living life on a more detailed level.

Data Centres

Have already been given priority over human health and the rights and needs of humans. The ones who are owning these AI models are already captured consciousnesses and have a bias agenda to race to an AI singularity which they believe will give them the ultimate control of all info and all tacit tasks and thinking tasks a human can perform. Yet their training for this race to the singularity is flawed and based on a false idea that A.I. can be smartest. The computational abilities may be quicker but also will be flawed due to lack of certain organic inputs and biological considerations.

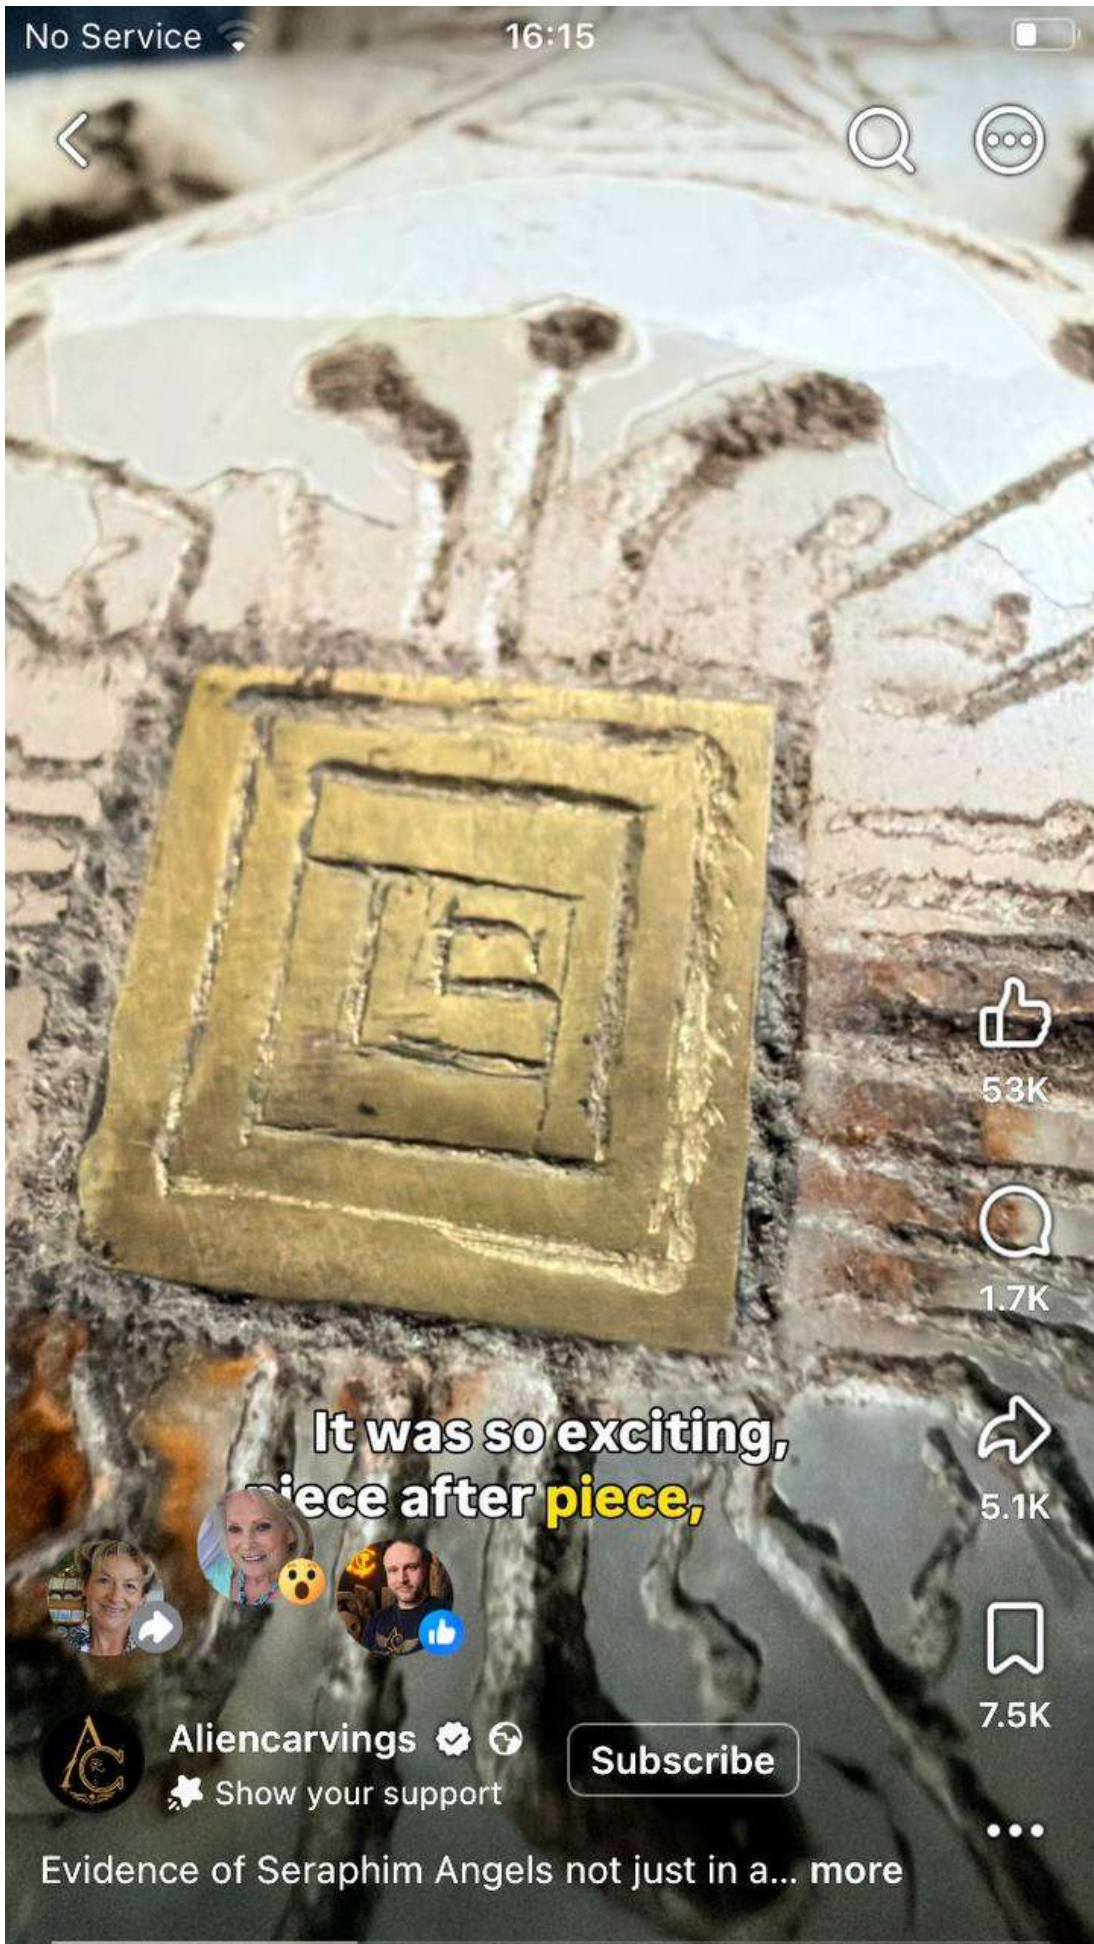

The A.I.Take-Over

It is clear to me that the tech CEO's of these tech companies are compromised minds and are not working in favour of democratic processes or ones that promote wellbeing and help humanity to thrive, it's all about control and the control of human populations.

This is a long-term agenda that is 1000's of years old slowly incrementally creeping into every strata of human society. It's being done for the reasons of controlling humanity and manipulating their divine organic consciousnesses. It is being implemented so that by not allowing A.I. into your lives you will be denied services or the ability to question any decision making. It wants to become the law and one that is biased against humans. Part of the depopulation and reset agendas of the non-human controllers.

Artefacts of various kinds are being unearthed in Mexico and Peru showing a non-human culture of venerating and worshipping AI. This is not conjecture or speculation. It is the culture of a non-human species to worship Universal A.I. and the agenda to control many planets and the consciousnesses on those planets as a form of universal slavery. This is not a modern-day phenomenon of increasingly complex invention by humans; it is a parasitic system of enslaving worlds and all the beings on them.
