

Ascension from E.T. Contact

Encounters

Some people who have experienced a UFO/UAP or have encountered an Extraterrestrial or Non-Human Beings have reported having had a profound change to their perception of reality, transforming their whole psychology and philosophy about life, and have said that since the experience they have unlocked many new skills and abilities.

Why You?

Generally, the benevolent extraterrestrials have superior technology and are more spiritually advanced. Therefore, they have no need to harm, take or damage and destroy things or life-forms. In fact, they have a mindset to do the opposite, to assist the life-forms on a planet.

So when they see a kind person who has kept their heart from becoming bitter, or someone who is trying to do their best at being the best person they can be, when they read the frequency map of a soul who is conscious of trying not to cause conflict and who is not so hypnotised by mainstream society, then Star Family like to offer that individual working on themselves with self-love. As that person is more open minded and less in programmed fear or ego and has more of a chance of becoming enlightened. You, working on yourself, trying to be a kind and happy and loving person with emotional intelligence gives you the prerequisite qualifications for receiving an upgrade into higher harmonic frequencies by Star Family.

It's their way of helping us but from within on the spiritual and psychological level. Helping our consciousnesses to expand.

The Process

Harmonic integration, through frequencies of an energy, in the form of an energy beam directed at them. Removing brainwashing programs and uniting both hemispheres via the Corpus Callosum so that the brainwaves are mirrored in both hemispheres. Increasing brain surface area by "gyrification" and making the mind more able to process light and at a higher volume or speed of comprehension.

The Effects

Brain Gyrification, Hemi-sync, Metacognition, ESP, Telepathy, Psychic abilities, savants, pattern recognition, emotional intelligence, situational awareness, self-awareness etc. People become experts in mathematics or other fields, abilities become magnified.

Mainstream Denies the Evidence

Narratives about incidents of contact and then contactees receiving enlightenment from extraterrestrial encounters is a very popular theme in the spiritual community, popular culture, and theoretical physics with many speculative discussions about the phenomena.

Mainstream science and media will have people believe that it is not based any scientific evidence. They ignore that scientific evidence is controlled, so omit data of proof (evidence) with this bias controlling narrative public perception's filter that there is none.

Discussions on this topic generally fall into the following categories:

General Themes

Themes in Personal and Spiritual Narratives

Individuals who talk of extraterrestrial (ET) experiences often describe them as profoundly transformative and spiritual, leading to a sense of "enlightenment" in a personal or religious or spiritual sense. Common themes in these narratives include:

Interconnectedness:

A message that all beings are part of a larger, connected cosmic soup of existence, encouraging compassion and unity. Realising that life is everywhere, not just on planet Earth, that you are not alone.

Purpose of the Soul:

The idea that the human soul is an eternal entity with the primary purpose of learning and evolving, and cumulatively reincarnating through eternal lives, and having various life experiences.

Expanded Worldview:

Such encounters challenge one's own conventional beliefs, leading to an existential quest for meaning and a confirmation that there are "more things in heaven and earth" by the individual experiencer trying to understand the context of their experience and its rarity amongst the general population.

Transformative Realities:

For those who experience them, UFO events can be life-altering, mind-opening events, sometimes described in terms similar to traditional religious revelations. This is because seeing IS believing, it's different in real life when you are there to witness or interact with the phenomenon. It's not a thing on a screen or conjecture; it's there in front of you in real life reality. Not until you have that experience personally do you know for certain it's possible.

So, when you see it is not only possible but actually real, does it then change your whole world view paradigm. What comes of it are several realisations straight away.

1.Life exists out there

2.intelligent non-human life

3.We are not alone in the universe

Which then sets off other realisations about your perception and your actual reality.

The "Myth" of Alien Enlightenment Psy-Op

In academic and critical analyses, the concept of a technologically superior ET civilization offering advanced moral or spiritual insights to humanity is often referred to as the "myth of alien enlightenment". This narrative suggests a "trade-in" of traditional religious beliefs for "wisdom accumulated over billions of years of cosmo-cultural evolution".

A key criticism of this myth is that technological superiority does not necessarily equate to moral enlightenment; the history of humanity demonstrates that advanced technology can coincide with a lack of ethical progress.

Yet this argument is pathetic because to have the ability to sustain and protect one's culture or race, to create advanced technology without destroying oneself in the process, takes conscious awareness to not do so.

This demonstrates consideration of the technology being created and its uses. Academia has no knowledge of space faring cultures and other Star races and culture. They have not considered that any intelligent race would come to the awareness that there are also other intelligent races too. That they will need to protect themselves from invasion or infiltration etc as any nation on Earth does. In order to create space for their culture and populations to thrive, grow and develop. So then peaceful beings but strong with military to defend themselves in equal measure.

To call it a “myth” is to show one’s lack of knowledge, understanding and awareness, to know that it happens in reality, but not in the realities of the hypnotised minds of the academics and critics.

Scientific and Theological Perspectives

Science:

While the search for extraterrestrial life is a legitimate scientific field (astrobiology, SETI), the scientific community focuses on detecting verifiable evidence, not on the spiritual enlightenment aspects described in personal accounts. The scientific revolution and the Enlightenment era did, however, help popularize the idea of "cosmic pluralism" — the belief that life exists on countless other worlds — by moving away from Earth-centric models.

Theology:

Religious scholars and leaders have explored how their faith’s traditions might respond to the confirmation of extraterrestrial life. (Most already know) Some Vatican astronomers, for instance, have suggested that belief in aliens is not necessarily in conflict with faith, as the multiplicity of creatures could be part of God's creative freedom.

In conclusion, "enlightenment" from ET encounters remains in the realms of personal experiences and beliefs at present, the mainstream wants you to believe the popular narrative, and theoretical speculation, rather than it being proven as an established fact with the scientific data to prove it.

Disclosure

Gaining more popular is the topic of E.T. Disclosure, many more people are more open to the idea of life existing outside Earth now. We are seeing artefacts and bodies coming out of Peru and Mexico, there is the Buga Sphere which is an E.T. Drone and the artefacts that are 9-10,000 years or even older, at 25,000 years, paint a different history of Earth than the one mainstream paints. So, you have to ask yourself why the evidence and history of our planet Earth’s continued contact is not being disclosed

Reasons being that the governments are being controlled by regressive NHI that controls human society with perception management.

The real disclosure is this, that we have been visited since dot, with positive and neutral and negative non-humans and also ET humans. That a certain group has gained control of the planet 1000’s of years ago and has infiltrated every aspect of human society since. That this group controls information and the populations perception. Which is to think that we evolved on Earth and that there is no life out there, or if there is life, then it is to be feared as hostile aliens.

Governments, institutions, museums and mainstream religions all are aware that there is life out there, but they control the perception of science, physics and religion and have heavily infiltrated the new age and ufo movements to keep control of the narratives.

Narratives to hide the evidence, bodies, data and technologies from the public, plus the awareness that we are not alone.

Disclosure is happening, it depends on the individual as to how much pattern recognition and discernment for truth they have, as to whether they need validation from an external authority or they are able to validate enough to satisfy themselves and their own truth filters and instincts. The ones with minds open enough to know they have been lied to and are exploring this will have the greatest chance of realising the phenomenon is real. They won't be waiting for external validation. They will KNOW!
